Oliver Jeffers

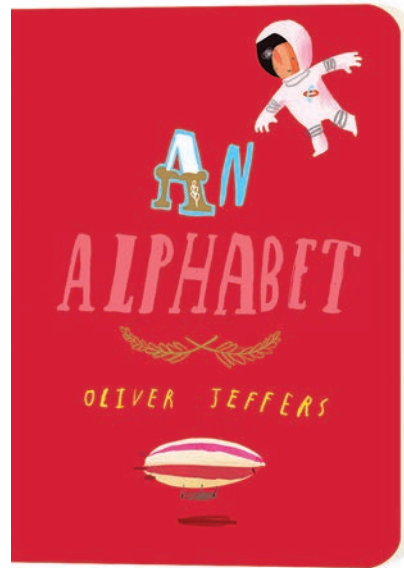

Little Stuck

When Floyd's kite gets stuck in a tree, he's determined to get it out. But how? Well, by knocking it down with his shoe, of course. But strangely enough, it too gets stuck. And the only logical course of action . . . is to throw his other shoe. Only now it's stuck! Surely there must be something he can use to get his kite unstuck. An orangutan? A boat? His front door? Yes, yes, and yes. And that's only the beginning. Stuck is Oliver Jeffers' most absurdly funny and colorful story apart from the Crayons books. Childlike in concept and vibrantly illustrated as only Oliver Jeffers could, here is a board book worth rescuing from any tree. Full-Color Illustrations, 28 pages.

OLIVER JEFFERS (www.oliverjeffers.com) is a creator of art for both adults and children. An illustrator of fine art, his picture books have received numerous awards and much critical acclaim. The Day the Crayons Quit and The Day the Crayons Came Home, written by Drew Daywalt, both #1 New York Times Bestsellers, exploded a wave of success that first began swelling with the bestsellers Stuck and This Moose Belongs to Me. Born in Belfast, Ireland, he now lives and creates art in Brooklyn, New York.

Animal Ark

Celebrating our Wild World in Poetry and Pictures

A howling wolf, a stalking tiger, a playful panda, a dancing bird—celebrate the beauty, diversity, and fragility of the animal world in this lush picture book that pairs the stunning photography of National Geographic photographer Joel Sartore with the delicate mix of poetry and prose of Newbery award-winning author Kwame Alexander. Featuring more than 40 unique animal portraits, the pages invite kids to explore each creature's markings, textures, and attributes in stunning detail, while calling on all of us to enjoy and help protect each and every one. Three picture-packed gatefolds inside showcase even more familiar and exotic species. These images are part of Sartore's lifelong project to photograph every captive animal species in the world, with special attention given to saving endangered species. 48 pages.

KWAME ALEXANDER is a poet, educator, and New York Times bestselling author of 21 books, including The Crossover, which received the 2015 John Newbery Medal for the Most Distinguished Contribution to American Literature for Children.

Chupacabras & Dragons

Chupacabra Ate the Candelabra

Jayna, Bumsie, and Pep are goats. And, like most goats, their greatest fear is being eaten for dinner by the legendary Chupacabra, as it is common knowledge that goats are a chupacabra's favorite food! One night, tired of living in fear, the impetuous goats whip out their trusty candelabra and head off to find the beast and scare it away before it can find them. Little do they know that candelabras are the chupacabra's third-favorite food—a fact he reports after he's gobbled up theirs. Unfortunately, he's still hungry—for his second-favorite food. Fortunately, that's not goats, either—it's cucarachas! When those are gone, too, he announces that he's now hungry for his favorite food—and the goats are in for their biggest surprise. Full-Color Illustrations, 32 pages.

MARK TYLER NOBLEMAN writes books for all ages, including Boys of Steel: The Creators of Superman and Bill the Boy Wonder: The Secret Co-Creator of Batman, which made best-of-the-year lists at USA Today, the Washington Post, and MTV, inspired an NPR All Things Considered segment, and led to a TED talk. Formerly a lead writer for Nickelodeon Magazine, his cartoons have appeared in over 100 publications.

Dragons Love Tacos 2: The Sequel

Listen, don't freak out, but I have some terrible news: There are no tacos left anywhere in the entire world! That's a huge problem because, as you know, dragons love tacos. We've got to do something! I know, let's fire up that time machine in the garage and go back in time, to before tacos went extinct. Then we can grab lots of tacos and bring them back with us. Just be sure you don't grab any tacos with spicy salsa. You remember what happened last time . . . Adam Rubin and Daniel Salmieri have created a gut-bustingly hilarious companion to their bestselling picture book Dragons Love Tacos. Full-Color Illustrations, 48 pages.

ADAM RUBIN is the New York Times best-selling author of a half dozen critically-acclaimed picture books including Secret Pizza Party and Robo-Sauce. He spent ten years working as a creative director in the advertising industry before leaving his day job to write full time. Adam has a keen interest in improv comedy, camping and magic tricks.

Bees & Excavators

Give Bees a Chance

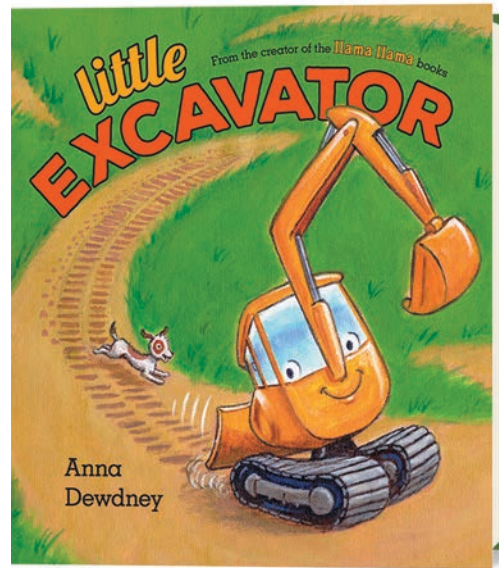

Not sure whether to high-five bees or run away from them? Well, maybe you shouldn't high-five them, but you definitely don't have to run away from them. In this enthusiastic, hands-on approach to bees, the book's narrator will convince the pizza-loving bee skeptic—and you—of just how cool bees really are. Did you know that 98 percent of bees are girls? Or that they have two stomachs (which would come in handy for more pizza eating)? Bethany Barton's hilarious text and kid-friendly illustrations will have you singing the praises of our buzzing neighbors—or at least will convince you to give bees a chance. 40 pages.

BETHANY BARTON is an author-illustrator and member of the Motion Picture Union. She was a writer for The Muppets on ABC. She and her family live in Los Angeles.

Universal Missions

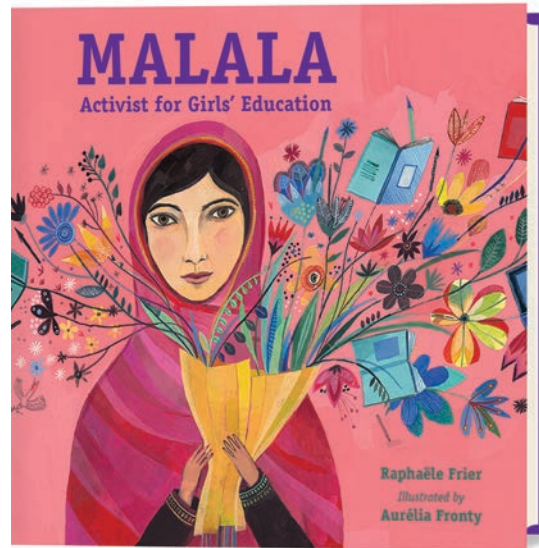

Life on Mars

A young space explorer is absolutely sure there is life to be found on Mars, so he sets off on a solitary mission, determined to prove the naysayers wrong. But when he gets there, equipped with a package of cupcakes for a snack, he sees nothing but a nearly barren planet. Finally, he spies a single flower and packs it away to take back to Earth as proof that there is indeed life on Mars. As he settles in for the journey home, he cracks open his cupcakes, only to discover that they're all gone! The reader knows the secret: Unbeknownst to the explorer, a Martian has been wandering around the illustrations the whole time—and he got himself a delicious snack along the way. Full-Color Illustrations, 32 pages.

Love & Happiness

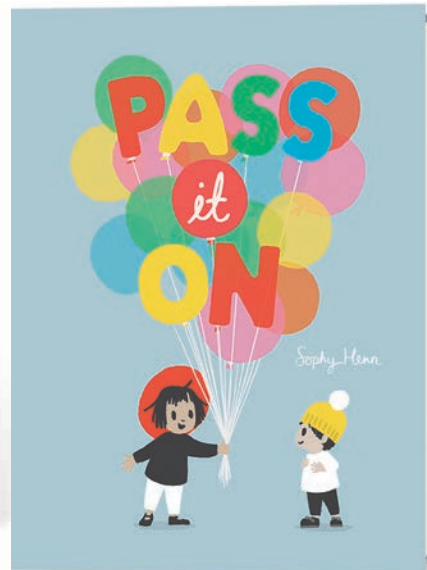

My Name is Zedonk

In the 2010 Census, almost 10 million Americans identified as multiracial. As our population grows, more and more families will be made up of people who may not look just like one another. My Name is Zedonk is a charming children's book celebrating diverse and multiracial families—or just a little story about a zedonk, read into it what you wish. Originally published in Korea, the story is for ages 3 to 8 and illustrated with full color, mixed media drawings that will resonate across ages, races, and genders. This story captures love, acceptance, and the mystery and magic of family. "Mama is a donkey, Papa is a zebra, and I'm a zedonk. Although each of us is a bit different, we are happy together just the same." 32 pages.

Pass It On

When you see something terrific, smile a smile and pass it on! If you chance upon a chuckle, hee hee hee and pass it on. Should you spot a thing of wonder, jump for joy and pass it on! Thus begins Sophy Henn's boldly illustrated ode to the excitement of sharing joy with others. With a refrain that begs to be uttered before every turn of the page, children will eagerly read alongside their parents as they discover how wonderful—and fun!—it is to share the good things in life. After all, if you spread happiness to others, even on a gray, rainy day, when you least expect it, like a bolt out of the blue, a smile or a chuckle might be passed right back to you. This simple, fun, and heartwarming book feels refreshingly upbeat and positive in a world that often bombards us with negativity. Full-Color Illustrations, 32 pages.

SOPHY HENN (www.sophyhenn.com) lives and works in Sussex, England, where she writes and illustrates children's books in her studio. She is the author/illustrator of Where Bear? and the Pom Pom Panda series. Follow her at @sophyhenn.

Sometimes It's Magic

Sometimes It's Storks

Baby delivery is a tricky business: When the top-notch stork is not available, a substitute has to step in. But a delicious-looking fish distracts him, and he misplaces the baby en route. As one animal encounter leads to another, the baby travels the world: up to the North Pole atop a whale, to Australia with migrating geese, and to the Brisbane Zoo by kangaroo, before finally landing at home. In Sometimes It's Storks, L. J. R. Kelly and the Brothers Hilts offer a whimsical tale of animals and adventure, proposing a creative answer to the puzzling question of where babies come from. Full-Color Illustrations, 32 pages.

L. J. R. KELLY is the author of the picture book Blanket and Bear. He is Managing Director of the literary estate of his grandfather, Roald Dahl. L. J. R. Kelly studied politics at Trinity College in Dublin, Ireland, and writing at Dartmouth College. He lives and works in London.

Maternal Love

Bunny Roo, I Love You

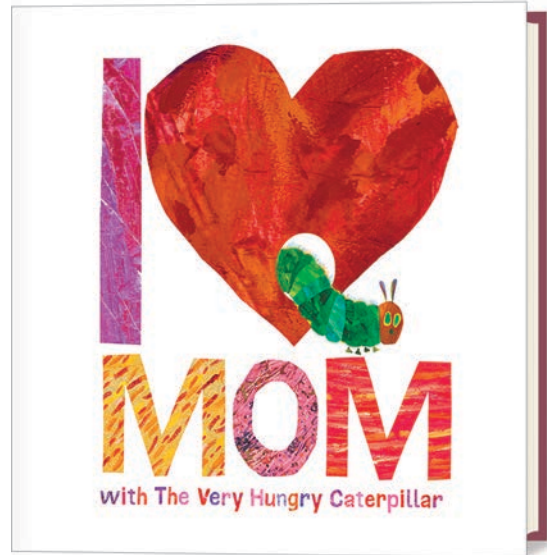

When I found you, you were small and trembling, and I thought you might be a little bunny. I held you close so you were warm. The world can seem like a big, bewildering place for new babies—fortunately, their mothers know just how to sooth and comfort them. This book cleverly explores a baby's emotions with apt comparisons to animals and, in doing so, reassures young children that their caretakers will always love them and keep them safe. The lovely illustrations of mama animals caring for their babies playfully reinforce this message, making for a visually captivating book. Full-Color Illustrations, 32 pages.
