

Anna and the Swallow Man

By Gavriel Savit

A stunning, literary, and wholly original debut novel set in Poland during the Second World War.

On Sale January 26, 2016

- Incredibly skilled writing with strong crossover appeal: we won this in a heated auction that included adult publishers, and it will appeal to readers who loved The Book Thief, How I Live Now, and The Life of Pi.
- A talented new voice: this is Gavriel Savit's debut novel, and it will establish him as a rising star to watch.
- A wholly original story with a popular subject matter: stories set during the Second World War are perennial bestsellers.
- Immense educational appeal: WWII setting and accomplished literary voice will make this a natural classroom read.
- Sold in 9 countries: readers around the world will be talking about this book.

RANDOM HOUSE
INTERNATIONAL SALES

ANNA AND THE SWALLOW MAN | 978-0-399-55304-2 | TR | $15.00