Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band

The Album, The Beatles, and the World in 1967

Brian Southall

“It was twenty years ago today, Sgt. Pepper taught the band to play . . . ”

In fact, it was fifty years ago in 1967 when the Beatles released their momentous, game-changing eighth album. Ronald Reagan was sworn in as California's governor, Elvis married Priscilla, students protested Viet Nam, and a twenty-year-old Brian Southall was writing a pop music column for a London paper. The Beatles ruled the pop music roost and the Summer of Love was the perfect time to experiment with their new psychedelic sound.

Designed to look like an LP and split into two distinctive parts, Southall—who worked with the Beatles as a publicist at EMI Records—dissects the artists and the times they were living in. The “A-side” is all about the Beatles, the music on the album, the recording process, how the disc was received at the time and how it has been acknowledged as one of the greatest albums ever recorded. The “B-side” looks at the state of the world in 1967.

Fascinating photographs and text build a complete picture of the world as it was when one of the most famous albums of all time was released.

Beatles insider BRIAN SOUTHALL began writing about music in the 1960s on a local newspaper before graduating to the likes of Melody Maker and Disc. From there he pursued a 30-year career in the record business with A&M, Tamla Motown, EMI (where he was Head of Press and dealt with the Beatles' solo projects) and Warner Music. His first book—the official history of Abbey Road Studios—was published in 1982 and he also wrote Northern Songs, The Rise and Fall of EMI Records, Sex Pistols: 90 Days at EMI (Omnibus Press), Beatles Memorabilia: The Julian Lennon Collection (Goodman), Jimi Hendrix: Made in England (Red Planet Publishing), and more. He lives in England.

A Taste of Latin America

Patricia Cartin

A colorful culinary tour of a region known for its vibrant flavors.

Latin American food is steeped in history and tradition. From Peru's spicy and citrusy ceviche to hearty Colombian beef, pork, and seafood stews to Argentina's silky, sweet Dulce de Leche desserts, cooks of all skill levels are invited to discover what makes this region's cuisine so unique and incomparable.

Organized by country, each section includes information about the historical context and influence for each nation's cuisine as well as details about local customs and ingredients.

Complete with four-color photographs, expertly crafted recipes and additional insight on the background and customs of each country featured, budding chefs and seasoned experts alike will be enticed by this authentic and beautiful, photographed compilation.

Tempting options for main dishes, vegetables, sides, and desserts, everyone can get creative in the kitchen with flavorful recipes for every part of a successful meal.

PATRICIA CARTIN was born and raised in San Jose, Costa Rica. She began her own thriving business teaching baking and cooking from her home. Patricia is a graduate of the International Culinary Center in New York City and has traveled extensively throughout Latin and Central America. She is the author of Dessert Party (Hourglass Press). Patricia lives on Long Island, New York.

Style that's easy and affordable.

With this easy-to-use resource, smart shoppers can cultivate upscale, upcycled wardrobes at thrift and consignment store prices.

Learn to navigate the racks of local consignment shops, spot name brands like Versace, Dior, and Burberry, select the best quality items, and repair secondhand clothes that need some love. Photo-filled chapters on thrifted handbags, jewelry, scarves, and other accessories show what's available and give tips for distinguishing quality items from fakes.

Interviews with expert tailors, dry cleaners, shoe repair wizards, and fabric-dyeing professionals explain what makes a damaged piece of clothing worth renovating. Before-and-after photos show what can be done to refashion less-than-perfect finds.

With one-in-six adults now thrifting and resale stores on the rise, ThriftStyle is perfect for the savvy shopper who wants to be chic for cents!

What's a ten letter word for challenging?

Put your trivia skills to the test with themed crossword challenges like “This and That” and a “Mixed Bag” before “Breaking the Mold.” Pop culture more your speed? Be sure to solve “Taglines,” “Between the Lines,” and “Advice from the Bard.” Ready to test your grammar skills? How about clues revolving around “Homophone Humor” and “Synonym or Antonym?” A fun way to give your brain a great workout.

From “John Grisham Novels” and “Paul Newman Roles” to “Baseball Lingo” and “Hurricane Names,” this expertly crafted collection will keep puzzlers of all ages entertained.

JOHN SAMSON has edited more than 250 puzzle books for Simon & Schuster’s Crossword series and has had several daily and Sunday crosswords published in The New York Times. John’s puzzles have appeared on the back of a Kellogg’s cereal box, on the side of a Metro-North Railroad building, in a tree inhabited by Keebler elves, in a key-stone for the H.J. Heinz Company, in a heart for Longevity magazine, and in a three-page centerfold for Golf Digest.
