Old MacDonald Had a . . . ZOO?

Iza Trapani

E-I-E-I-Zoo?

Iza Trapani is known for her clever twists on classic nursery rhymes. This time she outdoes herself with a visit to longtime favorite Old MacDonald. His busy little farm—with a moo, moo here and a moo, moo there—is out of control when zoo animals like kangaroos, elephants, and hippos join the menagerie. What’s a farmer to do? Iza Trapani’s hilarious, jam-packed illustrations are full of details animal-loving readers will point at with glee. And the sweet ending will keep them giggling until the next reading.

IZA TRAPANI first came to the United States from Poland at the age of seven and learned English by reading a book of Mother Goose nursery rhymes. She is the author of the best-selling The Itsy Bitsy Spider; Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star; and I’m a Little Teapot. Iza lives in New York’s Hudson Valley.

Melvin the Mouth

Katherine Blanc • Illustrated by Jeffrey Ebbeler

Th-th-th-that’s NOT all folks!

Mel Blanc was the voice of timeless cartoon favorites such as Bugs Bunny, Pepe LePew, Daffy Duck, the Tasmanian Devil, Porky Pig, and so many more. But did you know Mel had been creating bizarre noises and funny voices—and driving his family a little nuts—since childhood? In this first-person fiction-based-in-reality picture book, Mel’s daughter-in-law, Katherine, treats fans to a typical day for young Melvin. He amuses himself with sound effects as he gets ready for school, rides the bus, and does his chores—supplying his own personal soundtrack to the story of his life. A celebration of a man who brought so much joy to generations of children with simple creativity and the ability to make himself laugh.

KATHERINE BLANC is the author of The Boy Who Conquered Everest: The Jordan Romero Story (Hay House), and the daughter-in-law of the late Mel Blanc, known as the “man of 1000 voices” including most of the Looney Tunes® characters for Warner Bros. She lives in Southern California.

JEFFREY EBBELER has illustrated more than forty picture books, including the Main Street School series (Looking Glass Library/Random House). He has worked as an art director, done paper engineering for pop-up books, created large scale murals for schools and churches, and sculpted puppets. Jeffrey lives in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Bertha Takes a Drive

How the Benz Automobile Changed the World

Jan Adkins

A joyride across Germany in the world's first automobile

It's 1888 and Bertha Benz's husband, Karl, has invented the prototype Benz motorwagen. But the German government declares the vehicle illegal, and the church calls it the devil's work. Unbeknownst to her husband, Bertha steals away with her two sons and drives nearly one hundred miles to prove just how amazing the motorwagen is. But it is Bertha's mechanical savvy that gets the boys to Grandma's house safely when the vehicle breaks down. This remarkable mother/son road trip is based on the true story of how one brave woman reduced global concern about moving vehicles.

Backmatter includes a timeline of the evolution of the automobile and a breakdown of the motorwagen's combustion engine.

JAN ADKINS has written and illustrated many books for children, including The Art and Industry of Sandcastles (Walker and Co.); What If You Met a Cowboy?; What If You Met a Pirate? (Roaring Brook); and Line: Tying It Up, Tying It Down (Wooden Boat Publications). He lives in Gainesville, Florida.

Last Laughs

Prehistoric Epitaphs

Jane Yolen and J. Patrick Lewis • Illustrated by Jeffrey Stewart Timmins

*Iguano dawned,
Iguano dined,
Iguano done,
Iguano gone.*

In this companion to Yolen and Lewis's acclaimed Last Laughs: Animal Epitaphs, prehistoric creatures like the Iguanodon, the woolly mammoth, and the T-Rex meet their grisly ends. Poems framed as epitaphs for the extinct animals hit the proverbial (coffin) nail on the head in this darkly humorous collection.

Jeffrey Stewart Timmins' macabre illustrations are satisfyingly spine-tingling and wickedly humorous.

JANE YOLEN is the award-winning author of more than three hundred children's books including Bad Girls (with Heidi E. Y. Stemple), Owl Moon (Penguin), and the How Do Dinosaurs . . . ? series (Scholastic). She lives in Western Massachusetts.

J. PATRICK LEWIS is the author of more than seventy books for children and served as US Children's Poet Laureate from 2011 through 2013. His books include Take Two! (Candlewick) and Poem Mobiles: Crazy Car Poems (Schwartz & Wad Books). He lives in Columbus, Ohio.

JEFFREY STEWART TIMMINS is a children's book illustrator whose books include A Whole Nother Story, Another Whole Nother Story (Bloomsbury), and Play It Loud! The Rebellious History of Music (Capstone). He lives in Toronto, Canada.

Nina

Alice Brière-Haquet • Illustrated by Bruno Liance

“To be young, gifted, and black.”

Evocative black-and-white illustrations and moving prose introduce young readers to Nina Simone, jazz legend and civil-rights activist. Shared as a lullaby to her daughter, a soulful song recounts Simone’s youth in the segregated American south, her brilliant music career, the trials she faced as an African American woman, and the stand she took during the Civil Rights Movement. This poignant, melodic tale is both an historic account of an iconic figure and an extraordinary look at how far we've come and how far we still need to go for social justice and equality.

A stunning picture-book biography of the High Priestess of Soul and one of the greatest voices of the 20th century.

ALICE BRIÈRE-HAQUET teaches high school literature and has published several books for children, including Madame Eiffel: The Love Story of the Eiffel Tower. She lives in France.

BRUNO LIANCE is an illustrator, dad, and music lover. He has been making art full-time for fifteen years after studying decorative arts in Paris. He lives in France.

I don't remember that, of course.
My first childhood memory came a little bit later.
I must have been about three years old.

It was as if there were fifty-two beautiful white teeth and thirty-six smaller black teeth trapped in the keyboard.

But a car accident in the middle of nowhere leaves Karma's dad trapped. It's up to Karma to find a way to rescue her father and her younger brother. Along the way she crosses paths with Cooper, a troubled teenaged boy. Lost for three days, the two must figure out how to survive with the help of Stark. Karma may be closer than she thinks to becoming a real falconer and having a real friend.

And heading to the local independent theater to see old films on Saturdays with her best friend, Cyrus, keeps Maisie grounded as she struggles with growing up, family tensions, and a love triangle she never expected.

RUNNING FULL TILT

Michael Currinder

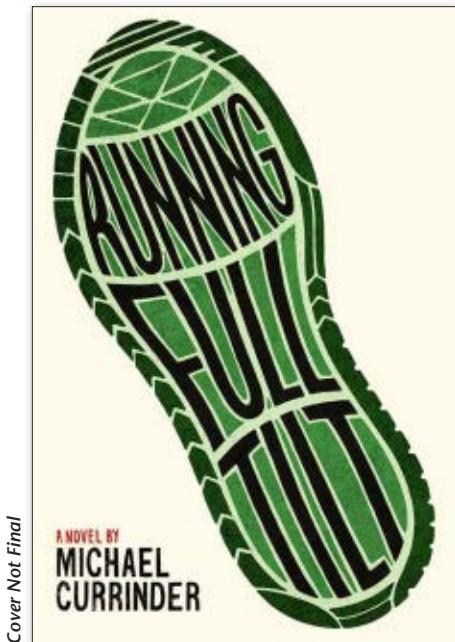

RUNNING FOR HIS LIFE.

Like most siblings, Leo and Caleb have a complicated relationship. Caleb is autistic and prone to violent outbursts, which literally send Leo running. When the family is forced to relocate due to Caleb's uncontrollable behavior, Leo tries to settle into a new school, joining the cross-country team and discovering his talent for racing and endurance for distance. Things look even better for Leo when he befriends Curtis, a potential state champion who teaches Leo strategy and introduces him to would-be girlfriend, Mary. But Leo's stability is short-lived as Caleb's attacks escalate, resentful of Leo's sports success and new friendships.

Debut novelist MICHAEL CURRINDER ran cross-country and track in high school, earning a college athletic scholarship. Running Full Tilt is a hybrid of his collective experiences as a competitive runner and as an adolescent with an autistic sibling. He is currently a teacher and track and cross-country coach at The American School in Tokyo, Japan.

The Importance of Wings

Robin Friedman

“... middle school angst, first crushes, and the importance of finding one’s own wings.”

—School Library Journal

It’s the 1980s and Israeli immigrant Roxanne just wants to be a normal American girl with a normal American family. But with her mother back in Israel and her father working long hours as a cab driver, there are no family dinners, no help with schoolwork, and no shopping for cool clothes. And forget about feathered wings—Roxanne’s droopy brown hair practically screams SPAZZ.
